Corpus Christi College Classics Centre Seminar (Hilary 2018): Aristophanes and the Current Political Moment

Organised by Constanze Güthenke and Samuel Gartland:

For locations and updates see the project page - https://www.ccc.ox.ac.uk/Aristophanes-and-the-Current-Political-Moment

Wednesdays 5-6.30pm (with drinks reception afterward)

17 Jan (Week 1) - Dan-el Padilla Peralta (Princeton) - Peace and Shit: Aristophanes as a Primer on Copropolitics

24 Jan (Week 2) - Liz Irwin (Columbia) - Acharnians and Politics

31 Jan (Week 3) - Ian Ruffell (Glasgow) - Aristophanes and Populism

7 Feb (Week 4) - Amy Coker (Bristol) - Political Incorrectness? Aristophanes, Hate Speech & Power

14 Feb (Week 5) - Carol Atack (Oxford) - Gendered Politics of Performative Assembly in Aristophanes

21 Feb (Week 6) - Rob Tordoff (York, Toronto) - The Cavalry and Vulgarism

28 Feb (Week 7) - Mario Telo (Berkeley) - Aristophanes, Jacques Rancière and Democracy

7 March - (Week 8) - Constanze Güthenke (Oxford) - Reading Leo Strauss Reading Aristophanes

All welcome!

Constanze Güthenke
Associate Professor of Greek Literature, Faculty of Classics, University of Oxford
E.P. Warren Praelector, Corpus Christi College, Oxford OX1 4JF, UK