Research seminar on Greek fragmentary texts (MT 2020)
Convenors: Lucia Prauscello and Daniela Colomo

Tue. 17.00-18.30

13 Oct.
Lucia Prauscello (All Souls College, Oxford) ‘A new Isis narrative in the Oxyrhynchus collection’

20 Oct.
Mark de Kreij (Raboud Universiteit, Nijmegen) ‘An unpublished fragment of an unknown (narrative?) elegy (P.Wifstrand)’

27 Oct.
Albio Cesare Cassio (La Sapienza, Rome and Università degli Studi of Genoa) ‘Language and everyday life in Doric Syracuse: reappraising some fragments of Sophron’s Mimes’

3 Nov.
William Furley (Ruprecht-Karls-Universität, Heidelberg) ‘Reading the lungs: a new divination papyrus from Oxyrhynchus’

10 Nov.
Federico Favi (Oriel College, Oxford) ‘A Sicilian Artemis’ coming of age: a re-examination of SEG XXXI, 821 and 822’

17 Nov.
Giuseppe Ucciardello (Università di Messina) ‘Exemplis discere: Greek lyric fragments in ancient and Byzantine grammars, lexica and scholarly works’

24 Nov.
Daniela Colomo (Oxyrhynchus Papyri Project, Oxford) ‘Ichthyology at Oxyrhynchus: A curious subliterary text’

1 Dec.
Giambattista D’Alessio (Università Federico II, Naples) ‘The afterlife of Sappho’s afterlife (on Pherecrates’ Miners and beyond)’