The Oxford-Princeton Seminar 2021/22

Naturalism and Anti-Naturalism

Tuesdays 4 pm, Ioannou Centre Lecture theatre, 66 St.Giles

1st week: No public lecture
Planning and discussion session for graduate students participating in the seminar

2nd week: Federico Marcon (Princeton)
Without ‘Nature’: Conceptions of the Material World in East Asian Philosophy
(please note: the speaker will deliver his talk remotely)

3rd week: Dominik Maschek (Oxford)
The Construction of Nature: On the Usage and Semantics of Building Materials in Late Republican Roman Architecture

4th week: Karen Margrethe Nielsen (Oxford)
Aristotle’s Defence of Natural Slavery and its Legacy

5th week: Elena Isayev (Exeter)
The Value of a Body out of Place

6th week: Tiziana D’Angelo (Nottingham)
Frangere sexum: The Body “Unnatural” in Palmyrene Funerary Painting

7th week: Katherine Clarke (Oxford)
Bringing Landscapes to Life: Dialogues with Nature in the Histories of Herodotus

8th week: No public lecture
Presentation of abstracts by graduate students participating in the seminar

For information and questions, please contact Nino Luraghi (nino.luraghi@classics.ox.ac.uk)