Cicero, Philippics 1: Latin Language

These lectures are meant for First Years studying the Latin Language paper in Mods. The lectures will discuss aspects of Latin that run through the speech; but they will combine this with the closer consideration of particular passages. The last lecture in particular will look at ingredients of Cicero’s style; but the strategy and manner of the speech will be borne in mind throughout. Please bring a text if you can.